

The Hope and Healing Center

One of the new buildings which will be constructed on the East Lawn during our capital improvements project is The Hope and Healing Center. This 12,000 square foot building, designed as a bright and welcoming series of multipurpose spaces, will also feature access to an adjacent serenity garden.

The Hope and Healing Center will provide a comprehensive ministry of awareness, prevention and recovery for families and individuals in all stages of life. Our objective is to provide resources that will help create healthy family systems and, when needed, the support to move from places of pain to acceptance, forgiveness and peace of mind. The goal is to promote emotional, mental, physical and spiritual health.

Hope & Healing

The Hope and Healing Center will serve the needs for:

- Adulthood, with awareness of good parenting practices and family development.
- Elderhood, including empty nest status, loss of spouse, illness, dementia, financial stress and end-of-life issues.

The building will be equipped with different size rooms for small, medium and large groups, as well as private sessions. In addition, a 100-seat, state-of-the-art seminar room with an audio visual system and distance learning capability will facilitate reaching out to those in need. It also will provide a meeting space for Pastoral Care groups, Prayer groups, Recovery and 12-step groups, as well as educational programs such as The Wellness Series, Divorce Recovery Series, Quiet Days, meditation experiences, and more.

This “green room” will serve not only as a prefunction and reception room for the seminar room, but also as a separate meeting room. It will be equipped with a built-in kitchenette and is ready for presentations. Its design features a warm interior with wood paneling.

This state-of-the-art seminar room has fully equipped presentation technology featuring distance learning capabilities. Lighting and acoustics are specifically designed for ideal speech intelligibility and visibility.

The seminar room features tiered, high-back contoured seating.

Typical meeting rooms are designed as flexible seating, multipurpose rooms. Specific features include dual lighting systems and window treatments for privacy and the softening of harsh sunlight.
