Jesus Prays at Gethsemane

This pane — part of stained-glass Window 35, “Christ’s Teaching on Prayer” — depicts Jesus kneeling in the Garden of Gethsemane, overwhelmed with sorrow, as He prays to His Father. In this moment of agony and deep anguish, Christ’s prayer reveals His steadfast obedience to God’s will.

“And he went forward a little, and fell on the ground, and prayed that, if it were possible, the hour might pass from him. And he said ‘Abba, Father, all things are possible unto thee; take away this cup from me: nevertheless not what I will, but what thou wilt.’” (Mark 14:35-36 KJV)

Find Window 35 on the west side (right side) of The Church. It is the second window from the back.

Celebrating Advent and Christmas

Evergreen wreaths, garlands and twinkling lights throughout our beautiful worship spaces provided a perfect backdrop to celebrate the birth of Jesus Christ.

A Holy Invitation to Lent

“Lent” is a strange word.

For Christians, Lent is a word that carries with it dour connotations of penance and self-denial. Lent is that time when we impose clear and often uncomfortable limits on our own thoughts and actions. We give special care and attention to the disposition of our hearts and minds. We forgo simple pleasures and forsake — to the extent that we are able — persistent sins. If the borders of our spiritual lives are ordinarily a little vague and fuzzy, Lent is the season for tightening our expectations and narrowing our focus. All of this can make Lent feel like a hard season, a dark season, a cramped and self-contained season.

But did you know that the word “Lent” actually shares the same root as the word “lengthening”? Lent did not originally carry any connection with the difficult, soul-searching, sober work of repentance as we prepare for Easter. Rather, it simply acknowledged that in the springtime in northern Europe, the days are getting longer. The light is growing, hour by hour, day by day, little by little. The whole natural world around us is lengthening — stretching into the new growth and new life that follows the dark, dormant days of winter.

Of course, the contrast between a cold, dark, dead-looking winter and a bright, verdant, fruitful spring is not quite as dramatic here in Texas as it is in, say, England. But we, too, are noticing the lengthening of days, the receding threat of ice storms and the promise of warm weather ahead. And in our life together at St. Martin’s, Lent is a time of increasing activity and busy-ness after the relatively quiet season after the Epiphany. So Lent is indeed for us a time of stretching and expansion, even if the very things we are stretching into are strictures, disciplines and a more intense and intentional focus on our relationship with the Lord.

Thus, there is, at the heart of Lent, a wonderful paradox. This hard, narrow season contracts our focus onto Christ Jesus and in so doing, it simultaneously broadens our concern, care and love for others. This limiting season of self-discipline actually allows us to expand our spiritual lives beyond what we previously thought possible. This dark, penitential season of self-reflection and self-sacrifice ultimately draws us into that bright country where all self-regard will be joyfully set aside in the presence of the One who is our light, our joy and our hope.

This limiting season of self-discipline actually allows us to expand our spiritual lives beyond what we previously thought possible.

Come join your brothers and sisters of St. Martin’s Parish as together we strive, by the grace of God, to keep a holy Lent. Come and turn inward, to examine your heart, your mind and your soul and find that through this hard work the Lord will turn your focus outward again, to seek and serve Christ in others. Come fast and pray with us in this somber time, so that at the end of 40 days we may greet with joy the news of the Resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead.

Come and let God’s compassion, God’s faithfulness and God’s loving kindness broaden and lengthen your heart in this holy season of Lent.

Crowded Table: A Lesson for the Church

I believe the song “Crowded Table” by the Highwomen should be an anthem for the 21st-century Church.

It starts: “You can hold my hand/When you need to let go/I can be your mountain/When you’re feeling valley-low/I can be your streetlight/Showing you the way home/You can hold my hand/When you need to let go.”

Isn’t that what the Church is supposed to do? Isn’t that what Jesus has done for us? “Even though I walk through the darkest valley, I fear no evil; for you are with me.” (Psalm 23:4) The Church can embody the loving care of our Good Shepherd by being there when people need us most and then pointing them to their true home (who is Christ Himself).

The song continues: “If we want a garden/We’re gonna have to sow the seed/Plant a little happiness/Let the roots run deep/If it’s love that we give/Then it’s love that we reap/If we want a garden/We’re gonna have to sow the seed.”

As the Church, we are called to “go and make disciples.” (Matthew 28:19) We sow the seeds of faith through evangelism and discipleship. If we want this garden to grow not only numerically but also in Christian maturity, then we must take the role of discipleship seriously.

For a healthy garden, we must be willing to sow the seeds of the Gospel in our lives. The Good News isn’t just for those outside our Church walls, but also for the faithful who come weekly. For a garden to flourish, it must be tended, cared for and occasionally pruned. What does our garden look like and where do our hearts need a little tending?

The best part of the song is the chorus: “I want a house with a crowded table/And a place by the fire for everyone/Let us take on the world while we’re young and able/And bring us back together when the day is done.”

The Church’s mission is to transform people’s lives in the power of the Spirit and that transformation begins around the Table.

Like a big family meal, we desire a crowded table around our Altar where people are nourished with the Body and Blood of Christ and then sent out into our community to be the Body of Christ. The Church’s mission is to transform people’s lives in the power of the Spirit and that transformation begins around the Table. At this family table, there is room for everyone because we believe everyone needs to experience God’s transforming love and forgiveness. Something happens to us in the breaking of bread.

This song reminds us that the Church — at its most elemental form — is a community of believers who are called to fling wide our doors to the world. Hospitality is evangelism. Believing and belonging go hand in hand.

As the last stanza says, “The door is always open/Your picture’s on my wall/Everyone’s a little broken/And everyone belongs/Yeah, everyone belongs.” I pray everyone feels that way when they walk through our doors. You are home and so now, it’s time to help set the table for others.

THE HUMBLE KING:

The Life and Teachings of Jesus

Sundays through Feb. 15

Continuing with the story of the Bible we began last fall with Genesis, during Epiphany, we'll focus each week on key aspects of the life and teachings of Jesus. The King of the kingdom of God finally arrives in Israel — what does He show us about what life together in God's kingdom is like? How does it help us better understand His atoning work on the Cross, which we'll study together in Lent?

"The Transfiguration"

Sunday, Feb. 15

Led by the Rev.
Jim Jackson

Lent Sundays:

THE FOOLISHNESS OF THE CROSS

Sundays, Feb. 22-March 22

In the service for Good Friday, we say together a prayer attributed to St. Francis: "We adore you, O Christ, and we bless you, because by your holy cross you have redeemed the world." During Lent, we'll move from our walk through the life and teachings of Jesus to focus on the passion, cross, and atoning death of Jesus, which Paul says the world sees as "foolishness" (1 Cor. 1:23).

Join us for this six-week series paired together with our Wednesday Lenten suppers as we reflect on the central saving mystery of our faith.

WORLD UPSIDE DOWN: Living the Resurrection

Sundays, April 12-May 17

After the cross and the resurrection of Jesus, now what? As we keep following the story of the Bible, we'll talk about the birth of the Church in the book of Acts, the Gospel of grace in the letters of Paul, the shape of the Christian life and, finally, the Bible's conclusion with the book of Revelation. And we'll recap what we've learned this year about the whole story of the Bible, as a single story with the Gospel of our risen Lord and Savior at its heart.

LENTEN QUIET DAY OF PRAYER

The Three "Rs" of Lent

Sponsored by St. Martin's Chapter of the Order of St. Luke

*Saturday, Feb. 21 • 9 a.m.-noon
Parish Life Center*

An old adage describing the fundamentals of learning was "Reading, (W)riting and (A)ithmetic." Those three "Rs" were foundational in the schooling of children for many generations.

The season of Lent has its own three "Rs" of behaviors or practices that are fundamental for Christians of all ages – Reflection, Repentance and Reconciliation. Too often, we focus on one of these fundamentals at the expense of others. If we seek the restoration for which we hope and pray during these 40 days of Lent, we should focus on all three basic steps toward the renewal of life in Christ.

St. Martin's Clergy will supply meditations on these three "Rs" of Lent. Time will be allocated after each presentation for quiet prayer and reflection. The Quiet Day will end with Noonday Prayer.

For more information, please contact the Rev. Sharron L. Cox at scox@smec.org or 713-830-4131.

"A Learned Discourse on Justification in Modern English," by Richard Hooker

*Thursday, March 26
6:15-7:45 p.m. • Student Life Center, Living Room*

Richard Hooker is arguably the most influential and representative theologian in our Anglican tradition; yet, he is little read by most Episcopalians today. This short book from 1631 is his classic treatment of the doctrine of justification or how we are declared righteous by faith in Christ, which Martin Luther called "the article by which the church stands or falls." Free versions of this text are available online, but we recommend the new edition in modern English published by the Daventry Institute and available in St. Martin's Gift Shoppe.

GENESIS: Foundations of Faith

This spring, we continue our in-depth study of the Book of Genesis. As a book of origins, Genesis is foundational for the rest of the Biblical story. From it, we gain a better understanding of life's most important issues: what it means to be human, how we account for evil, how we should think about creation, humanity's purpose and vocation and God's redemptive plan for the world. These questions, and more, are addressed in the Bible's first book.

Premiere of Two Original Works

Composed for Dr. David Henning and the Parish Choir

Sunday, April 26 · 4 p.m. · The Church

O Come, Let Us Sing (2025)

Commissioned by St. Martin's Episcopal Church in honor of David Henning's tenure as Music Director, "O Come, Let Us Sing" is a jubilant setting of Psalm 95, a text that has long served as a call to worship. This piece captures the psalmist's invitation to rejoice in God's presence, unfolding in long, lyrical vocal lines that express both reverence and exuberance. The organ plays a vital role, offering moments of reflection and exultation.

Originally conceived to be performed on Oct. 26, 2025 alongside the program for Mendelssohn's "Elijah," "O Come, Let Us Sing" draws inspiration from that same spirit of grandeur and drama while offering its own distinctive voice. At its heart, this composition is both a celebration of worship and a tribute to David Henning's enduring impact on the musical life of St. Martin's Episcopal Church.

I Will Give You Rest (2025)

Commissioned by St. Martin's Episcopal Church in honor of David Henning's tenure as Music Director, "I Will Give You Rest" is a meditative organ prelude inspired by the words of Christ in Matthew 11:28: "Come to me, all you who labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest." This piece serves as an invitation to stillness and peace.

The music gently unfolds, inviting quiet reflection. Woven into its fabric are quotations from Daniel Knaggs's choral work, "Come Unto Me," commissioned by Jesus College, Cambridge, United Kingdom, for their choristers. These echoes of the choral setting lend an additional layer of meaning, connecting the prelude to a broader musical and spiritual journey. Through its flowing lines and contemplative harmonies, "I Will Give You Rest" offers a moment of solace, much like the words that inspired it — an expression of divine compassion and an invitation to trust.

Daniel Knaggs is an internationally acclaimed composer whose works span opera and large-scale orchestral pieces, chamber and choral music and have been performed worldwide. His music is published by leading houses including Edition Peters, Hal Leonard, GIA, and E. C. Schirmer. He has received major international awards in Germany, Italy, and the United States, including commissions from the Puccini Chamber Oper Festival, among others. Knaggs holds a doctorate from Rice University and degrees from Bowling Green State University and the University of Michigan. He is the Founder and Artistic Director of Cor Mundi, a Houston-based organization dedicated to sacred music.

MERRY AND BRIGHT — The spirit of Christmas came alive as family and friends gathered during the Episcopal Church Women's annual Children's Christmas party on Dec. 6. Faces and hearts, young and old, lit up as they created crafts, played games, heard the Christmas story, and welcomed Santa himself. A train ride, inflatable, snowy fun, face painting and treats added to the holiday magic. We are thankful to the volunteers who helped make this joyful celebration of Jesus' Birthday a beloved holiday tradition.

CHRISTMAS CHEER AND COMMUNITY — The Episcopal Church Women of St. Martin's gathered to celebrate the holiday season with its annual Christmas Coffee on Dec. 8. Hosted by Parishioners Lisa and Bob Heston in their beautifully decorated home, the morning sparkled with festive attire, generous hearts and warm fellowship. Guests brought unwrapped gifts and gift cards to support the DePelchin Children's Center and Christian Community Service Center. Open to all women Parishioners, the event offered a joyful and meaningful start to the holiday season.

A Celebration of Christmas at St. Martin's

Parishioners, friends and guests came together in The Church and the Parish Life Center to celebrate the birth of our Lord with five Christmas Eve services and one service on Christmas Day. The Family Table service began at 9:15 a.m. on Dec. 24 in the Parish Life Center followed by another Family Table service at 11 a.m. in The Church featuring a live recounting of the Christmas Story. Parishioners filled the pews and balcony during the 11 a.m. service and the Traditional services at 1, 3:30, 6, and 8:30 p.m. These services featured joyful worship, including Holy Eucharist, hymns sung by the Parish Choir and congregation, and accompaniment by the Gloria Dei Organ, brass and timpani.

The Church and Parish Life Center glowed with thousands of white lights, wreaths, garlands and trees while red poinsettias adorned the chancel steps. Our Riverway service began at 1:30 p.m. with a sing-along of favorite Christmas carols and hymns, followed by the contemporary worship service at 2 p.m.

Proclaiming the Messiah: Songs, Scripture and Celebration

Parishioners filled The Church on Dec. 21 for a celebration of worship featuring the Parish Choir, accompanied by bells, brass, timpani, and the Gloria Dei Organ. The Traditional Festival of Nine Lessons and Carols service recounted the prophecies and told the story of our Savior's birth through a moving blend of Scripture readings and music.

The Riverway Lessons and Carols service highlighted each ancient prophecy with a contemporary musical response by the Riverway band.

The Family Table Lessons and Carols featured anthems sung by our Young Singers and lessons read by our youth, offering families a joyful and participatory worship experience.

AND THAT'S A WRAP! — After the Family Table Lessons and Carols service, the Children's Ministry kept the holiday spirit alive with festive treats, a candy bar and a special Outreach project. Parents and young Parishioners filled shoeboxes with toiletries and sundry items, then wrapped them with Christmas paper. The completed shoeboxes were generously donated to the Houston International Seafarers Center, spreading holiday cheer to seafarers away from home.

ADULT CONFIRMATION — On Sunday, Nov. 16, the Rt. Rev. Jeff Fisher, Bishop Suffragan, Diocese of Texas, presided over our Confirmation Service. During the 9 a.m. Traditional Service, the Bishop confirmed 20 Parishioners were confirmed, received, and reaffirmed in the Episcopal Church.

A Fond Farewell to the Rev. Gill Keyworth

After nearly six years of faithful service to this Parish, the Rev. Gill Keyworth retired from her active involvement in Pastoral Care ministry. On Nov. 23, St. Martin's officially bid farewell to our Deacon with a reception to thank the Rev. Keyworth for her ministry, particularly with the Shepherd's Guild.

She served as the Deacon for four congregations, trained as a Stephen Ministry leader and taught numerous classes. Sixteen years ago, she began training for "Walking the Mourner's Path" and has since introduced the program to other churches. Ordained on Feb. 9, 2007, she and seven others comprised the first class of Deacon graduates from the Iona School for Ministry.

The Rev. Keyworth has been married to her husband, Rod, for 54 years. While St. Martin's is saddened by her retirement, they both continue to be active members of St. Martin's.

HONORING SERVICE — St. Martin's Fifth Rector, the Rev. Dane Boston, thanks the Rev. Gill Keyworth for her service to our Parish and the community while her husband, Rod, looks on.

Deacon Keyworth applies ashes to the forehead of a Parishioner in the shape of a cross during Ash Wednesday, March 5, 2025.

® HHCI's vision is a world in which mental health care is easily accessible by all. HHCI Marks 14 Years of Mental Health Awareness with Survivor Stories

On Oct. 9, 2025, the Hope and Healing Center & Institute celebrated its 14th Annual Chrysalis Luncheon — an event that has become a cornerstone for raising awareness, breaking stigma and honoring stories of recovery in our community.

From its beginnings in 2011, HHCI has been dedicated to transforming lives and restoring hope by providing free, faith-based mental health services, education, training, and research. Over the years, programs like the Hope Line, Gateway to Hope training and our outpatient clinic have touched thousands of lives, offering compassion and healing where it is needed most.

Each year, the Chrysalis Luncheon elevates powerful voices of survival and resilience.

Over the past three years, our keynote speakers have shared stories that were both vulnerable and deeply inspiring.

- In 2023, Houston Astros legend Jeff Bagwell opened up about his journey through addiction and recovery.
- In 2024, Beth Moore, New York Times bestselling author and founder of Living Proof Ministries, moved the audience with her powerful story of healing.
- In 2025, Elizabeth Smart, survivor and mental wellness advocate, reminded us of the strength to overcome after her abduction at just 14 years old.

These stories are more than moments of inspiration; they are proof of impact.

What It Really Takes to Run St. Martin's

Stewardship, faith and the shared work of the Body of Christ

As St. Martin's Episcopal Church begins its 2026 Stewardship season, Parishioners are invited into a deeper conversation — one that goes beyond budgets and numbers and what it means to belong to a church community. In a recent episode of "The Wayside Podcast," the Rev. Wesley Arning, Associate for Riverway and Discipleship Ministries, sat down with three key Church leaders to reflect on the unseen work that sustains the life of St. Martin's and the spiritual meaning behind pledging as a practice of faith.

"We love the glistening Sunday morning stuff," the Rev. Arning acknowledged, "but there's a lot that has to happen to make this Campus work." From the beauty of the grounds to the rhythm of worship every seven days, much of what Parishioners experience flows seamlessly.

That trust takes a practical shape for Brandon Firor, Chief Operating Officer, who sees his role as an essential support of the ministry. "I never want to be the barrier to ministry opportunities," he shared. "My job is to make sure the Church can respond freely to what God is calling us to do."

That responsibility comes with significant practical realities. Simply keeping St. Martin's open — maintaining buildings, managing grounds and powering the 15-acre Campus — costs approximately two million dollars each year. "Nearly $350,000 of that is spent on electricity alone," he stated. "Most of the operations work is invisible, but it's essential."

Careful planning, preventive maintenance and efficiency allow St. Martin's to steward resources wisely, he confirmed. Every dollar saved through operational care becomes a dollar that can be directed toward mission and ministry.

The Rev. Martin J. Bastian, Vice-Rector, framed Stewardship in deeply theological terms, underscoring that it's not simply about maintaining the Campus or balancing a budget — it is about sustaining the Body of Christ. "Scripture teaches us that the Church is the Body of Christ. And we have a spiritual responsibility to support that body." From music to education, pastoral care and community, "every ministry is sustained through the faithful and intentional giving of its Parishioners. ... Our goals in everything we do are that you know God. Whether through worship, fellowship over coffee and donuts, or opportunities for service and outreach, St. Martin's seeks to create spaces where Parishioners can grow in faith and experience God's presence more fully," he affirmed.

For Sarah-Hampton Cambas, Director of Parish Engagement, Stewardship begins not with numbers but with prayer.

"The first step in supporting St. Martin's is prayer," she explained. Rather than beginning with the Church's needs, Parishioners are encouraged to ask what God is calling them to give. "A pledge," she emphasized, "is a promise — one made in faith. It helps us plan for the year and steward our resources responsibly." While also acknowledging that life can change, pledges can be adjusted, increased, or reduced as circumstances require. "What matters most is the intention and trust behind commitment."

Even modest commitments can make a meaningful difference. Cambas noted that if each household increased giving by just $50 a month, it would add more than $2.5 million to the Church's annual budget — funds that could expand outreach, deepen discipleship and strengthen pastoral care.

Stewardship, the Rev. Arning concluded, is ultimately about forming habits of generosity and trust. It is learned over time and modeled across generations. It is most clearly seen at the Family Table service when children run forward with their offerings, learning that giving is not about the amount but about participation in the life of the Church.

As St. Martin's looks toward the year ahead, the invitation is clear: pray, commit and participate. Pledging is not merely a financial act — it is a spiritual one, an expression of faith in God's provision and a commitment to the shared work of the Body of Christ.
